

SPRING, 2010 CITIZEN POLICE ACADEMY ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS

On behalf of Mayor Gerald D. Jennings and the Deputy Chief Steven Krokoff, we invite citizens to apply to the Albany Citizen Police Academy. Applications are now being accepted for the Spring 2010 Citizen Police Academy, scheduled to start on Tuesday, March 2nd, 2010 (tentative). The fifteen week course will continue on subsequent Tuesday evenings. Classes will meet from 6pm to 9pm.

Albany's Citizen Police Academy is a unique opportunity for citizens who live in or work in Albany. The goal of the Academy is to increase understanding between citizens and police through education. Through the weekly classes, the police will hope to dispel suspicions and misconceptions and increase rapport between the citizens and the police. The citizens, in turn, make the officers more aware of their feelings and concerns.

ALBANY CITIZEN
POLICE ACADEMY

Much time and energy has been devoted to developing an informative overview of the fundamentals of police operations, taught by both management and non-management representatives from the Albany Police Department. Students will be meeting once a week for three hours for fifteen weeks.

Topics of discussion will include virtually every aspect of police work ranging from a study of the penal law, demonstrations of different law enforcement tools (canine unit, mounted unit, etc.), narcotics investigations, computers, firearms, etc. The classes will include lectures, tours, demonstrations and hands on practice.

Citizens (limited to those who live in or work in Albany) should complete the following application and send it to Sgt. Dermot Whelan at dwhelan@albany-ny.org or mail to the below address. Class size is limited and citizens should not delay.
