MAYOR JENNINGS RELEASES CITY OF ALBANY "SHOVEL READY" PROJECTS FOR 2009 STIMULUS FUNDING

Albany, NY – Mayor Jennings has presented a plan to federal, state and local leaders detailing "shovel ready" projects and programs in the City of Albany as recommendations for 2009 Federal Stimulus funding. The plan identifies twenty high-impact projects and programs that will immediately generate investment and job opportunities for the City and the Capital Region.

Recommendations were based on projects that meet the general eligibility requirements of federal stimulus funding as defined in the Federal Economic Recovery Act. For more information on New York's program, go to www.economicrecovery.ny.gov. Public input is welcome on this process. To make a recommendation on a City of Albany project, please email development@ci.albany.ny.us with the project name, location, description, cost, contact name, email and telephone number.
